

Special Recognition for Creativity

The museum stands out in applying a new model of education and learning methodology in order to foster learning experience and creativity, oriented especially towards young visitors and children. At the same time, the museum team creates a unique atmosphere and a range of inviting activities that stimulate inspiration and experiences, and encourage talent to grow at its own pace.

The museum aims also at training school's teachers in new teaching methods and strategies. It uses creativity and continuously upgrades its educational programmes and approaches in order to remain relevant to the young museum audiences in modern society, where permanent exposure and use of new technologies endanger creativity and deeper interest in new content.

This concept promoting engaging learning activities, tailored to young local populations and the challenges of today, represents the museum's specific strength and its social purpose.
